FROM GOOD TO GREAT

SUCCESS

There is no single definition of success, as it varies from person to person. It can be easily defined as 'the satisfaction one gets from achieving a goal'. Success comes with problems because the road to success is full of many potholes. To be successful in life, you need to be determined and have a plan to reach your goals.

Success is directly proportional to the effort and time spent to reach that goal. It can be exhausting if it involves physical labour, but that simply means that you need to prioritise and work on the important things that will lead you to success.

Failure is the most important step in achieving your goals. Many of us fear that we will not be able to succeed, but failure is sometimes important, because it helps us define our path. Imagine what would have happened if Thomas Edison had hesitated while trying to invent the lightbulb! Don't be afraid to fail and face failure - because it will help you succeed.

To conclude, the three most important things a person needs to be successful are hard work, failure, and a schedule. Most successful people are very good at managing their time, and if you want to be successful in life, you have to learn time management skills. Finally, don't take success too seriously, as it can affect your health and relationships. Work on the process of achieving your goals and you will be successful in life!

Some thoughts to take away on success:

1. There is no one formula or mantra for success that applies to everyone in the world. Success means different things to different people.
2. Don't chase success. This will only make you unhappy in life.
3. Success requires constant effort and determination, and many people are reluctant to invest in it.
4. To be successful in life, you need to set goals and work towards them with determination. Success is the direct result of your efforts to reach your goals.
5. Successful people are very good at managing their time; so learn time management skills if you want to be successful in life.
6. Always learn from mistakes and past experiences. Never let your past define you.
7. Make a concrete plan for your life and write down different goals you want to achieve in the next phase of your life.
8. Don't get discouraged when you fail because sometimes failure is the only way to get somewhere in life.
